

More than just a game of football?

A new transport system will be put into place including a new airport-to-city link.

From 1948 -1994 legal and racial segregation was enforced in South Africa by the National Government. Even sports teams were based on the colour of your skin.

There will be an estimated 500,000 visitors to South Africa during 2010.

Football, as the world's most popular game, can help to bring together people from different backgrounds to play, watch and enjoy the game, and to break down barriers created by ignorance or prejudice.

$3 billion will have been invested by the USA.

Cape Town will be marketed around the world as an investment and tourist location.

There will have been major investment in the railway system.

Political prisoners held on Robben Island, off the coast of Cape Town, set up a football team using FIFA rules.

Six new hotels will be built to accommodate visitors.

The Green Point Stadium in Cape Town will be used as a multi-purpose venue for ball sports, major events and concerts after 2010.